

IF YOU ARE GOING TO ORDER C-O-A-L DO IT NOW!

Don't do as so many have done in the past—possibly you included—and wait until the last piece of coal is gone and a real cold spell is upon us and then expect the coal man to deliver your order in ten minutes. Remember there are probably hundreds of others in the same boat with you.

ORDER YOUR COAL SUPPLY NOW—HAVE IT IN YOUR BIN FOR THE COLD WINTER—WE CAN SERVE YOU BETTER NOW.

There is always a possibility that the supply will run low before new shipments arrive during the winter. A snow blockade, a car shortage, a strike of miners, etc., may cause serious difficulty. It costs no more to be prepared.

WE WILL SELL YOU COAL ANYTIME—

But we do earnestly ask you to think and be prepared.

WE'VE GOT COAL TO SELL—LOTS OF IT—ANY IND YOU WANT—BOTH NUT AND LUMP.

Not a Bite of Breakfast Until You Drink Water

Says a glass of hot water and phosphate prevents illness and keeps us fit.

Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of combustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken day after day leaves in the alimentary canal a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not completely eliminated from the system each day, becomes food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels. From this mass of left-over waste, toxins and ptomaine-like poisons are formed and sucked into the blood.

Men and women who can't get feeling right must begin to take inside baths. Before eating breakfast each morning drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash out of the thirty feet of bowels the previous day's accumulation of poisons and toxins and to keep the entire alimentary canal clean, pure and fresh.

Those who are subject to sick headache, colds, biliousness, constipation, others who wake up with bad taste, foul breath, backache, rheumatic stiffness, or have a sour, gassy stomach after meals, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store, and begin practicing internal sanitation. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on the subject. Remember inside bathing is more important than outside bathing, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing poor health, while the bowel pores do. Just as soap and hot water cleanses, sweetens and freshens the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Will begin revival meetings November 19, with Rev. W. M. Martin as evangelist. Mr. Martin has an excellent helper in his wife and in Rev. Echos as the musical director. Alliance has a great opportunity to enjoy the best thing possible in this evangelistic party. All the Christian people of the city and county are invited to join in this revival effort. Mr. Martin and party came from Lincoln.

BRYAN SPOKE TO LARGE CROWDS HERE

Discussed Prohibition and National Issues before Throng of 2,000 in Alliance Friday Morning

For all of an hour Friday morning, speaking to a crowd of between 1,500 and 2,000 people from a speaker's stand that had been erected at the corner of Box Butte avenue and Third street in front of the Brennan drug store, W. J. Bryan, the peerless democratic orator, poured a steady stream of logic, ridicule and condemnation upon those who were conducting the campaign for the defeat of Wilson. With Bryan on the ground there could be no bushwacking or guerrilla warfare conducted against the president. Bryan took the offensive and stormed the breastworks of those who criticize the way in which President Wilson has met and solved the problems that have confronted a nation while they profess to agree with the results.

Supported Amendment

Before talking on national issues Mr. Bryan spent considerable time in support of the prohibition amendment to the state constitution. He urged adoption of the prohibitory amendment on moral and economic grounds, illustrating his points with numerous stories. Mr. Bryan said that it was vital to the state's welfare that the amendment be adopted by a majority so large that the verdict will be accepted as final.

"And it is not sufficient that the amendment be carried," asserted the great commoner. "It is not self-enforcing. We must have a dry legislature to enact the necessary laws. To assure this the advocates of the amendment should lay aside party differences in electing a state legislature in both branches. We cannot afford to take any chances. As between a dry and a wet, vote the dry; as between two dries—vote for the drier."

Crowd Was Orderly

The crowd was orderly through the entire address, there being not one interruption during the first part of the speech and but one during the portion that dealt with national politics. One old gentleman who spends most of his time trying to talk politics and who is pretty generally kidded along this line, could not restrain himself and burst out with a question asking Mr. Bryan about democrats during the civil war. Mr. Bryan was prompt to inform him that most of them were dead. The old gentleman then got impatient and wanted to know about keeping us out of war. Mr. Bryan told him that he was coming to that in a short time but that he did not want to digress at that time.

Two Paramount Issues

Continuing his address, Mr. Bryan said: "There are two issues that are of paramount importance in the national campaign. The first is: Shall the government be turned back into the hands of reactionary republicans or continued in the hands of progressive democrats now in control. The second question is: Shall we rebuke or endorse the president, who has refused to interfere in Mexico and who has preserved neutrality as between the warring nations of Europe."

Answering his questions, Mr. Bryan declared the reactionaries, under President Taft, made such a failure that more than half of the republicans revolted and defeated Mr. Taft for re-election. The republicans who nominated Mr. Hughes last June were more reactionary than they were four years ago, said Mr. Bryan, while the democratic party has, under President Wilson's leadership, given the country more great remedial laws than any previous administration.

Mr. Bryan asserted that Hughes was nominated at Chicago by the same influences that nominated Taft in 1912 and may be presumed to recognize these same interests if elected president.

No Fatted Calf

"If any progressive republican who helped defeat Taft proposes to help elect Hughes in the expectation that the parable of the prodigal son will be re-enacted, I wish to assure him that there is no fatted calf in sight," he said. "The republicans will be glad to welcome you back, but you'll wait in the cold when it comes to getting anything in return."

Democratic Achievements

Mr. Bryan then listed the achievements of the present democratic administration, viz: "A tariff law, the best we have ever had in fifty years; an income tax which transfers one hundred and fifty millions of taxes from consumption to incomes; a currency law, the best we have ever had; a rural credits law, which gives the farmer his first opportunity to borrow at a fair rate and on long time; the shipping law, intended to protect shippers from the extortion practiced by the shipping trust; two anti-trust laws; the child-labor law; the eight-hour-day law; the promise of independence to the Philippines; and thirty treaties between us and three-quarters of the world which makes war between us and the contracting nations a remote possibility.

"When the income tax, which transferred one hundred millions of the burden of taxation from the common people to the wealthy, was up for ratification by the states," he said, "Mr. Hughes was governor of New York. He sent a message to the legislature, urging that it reject the income tax. Mr. Wilson was governor of New Jersey. Only a river separated the two states, but a thousand miles separated the sympathies of the two governors. Mr. Wilson urged his legislature to ratify the income tax."

Discusses Eight-hour Law

Turning to the eight-hour-day law, Mr. Bryan continued: "Both democratic and republican national platforms of 1908 had an eight-hour-day plank. But when the time came, Mr. Hughes is found upon the side of the railroads, who need no help, just the same as he was on their side when he vetoed the two-cent fare bill. If these acts are unjust, the railroads can knock them out in the courts. But Mr. Wilson was found on the side of the employees, who needed his help. The railroads have a remedy if they are mistreated—the courts. The men have no remedy. And now Mr. Hughes is appealing to class prejudice to defeat the man who was labor's friend when it needed a friend. Will you stand for Hughes?"

Following his enumeration of the eleven great reforms that go to make up a record without a parallel, he turned his attention to the administration's policy in Mexico and towards Europe. It was at this time that the elderly gentleman in the audience got the answer he so much wanted.

Kept Us Out of War

"A number of speculators, a few out of the hundred millions of the people of this country, went down there and bought lands and mines," he said. "They bought them cheap, taking full account of the risk involved. They took a gambler's chance. Now they want your sons to go to war to save them from that gambler's chance and make sure their gambler's profit. But you can say to them that that will not be done—not while Woodrow Wilson is president."

"The mothers of the country are turning the tide toward Wilson. They are grateful to him for resisting the pressure of speculators who would involve us in war with Mexico to increase the value of their investments. And all citizens rejoice that, by keeping us out of war in Europe, we shall be able to render a supreme service to the world by bringing about an honorable peace. The man to act as mediator is the one who has succeeded in keeping us out of war—our president, our candidate, Woodrow Wilson."

HEAVY MEAT EATERS HAVE SLOW KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if you feel Backachy or have bladder trouble—Take glass of Salts.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the loins or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

IF HAIR IS TURNING GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

Here's Grandmother's Recipe to Darken and Beautify Faded Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application of two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for 50 cents a large bottle, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.
